In response to call No. 669 for 51 white men to report duty June 23 the local exemption board has called 39 men to entrain for Camp Travis. With the exception of one man who has been sick for several weeks and a couple whose induction has been deferred for industrial reasons and which if insisted upon now would work a special hardship, all white registrants of June 5, 1917, in class 1 have been called. The call was for 60 men, but the board did not have them in class 1 and no instructions have yet been issued for inducting men in class 2. A number of negroes still remain enrolled in class 1.

THIRTY-SIX NEGROES LEAVE AT MIDNIGHT.

Thirty-six negroes are scheduled to leave on the midnight I. & G. N. train for Camp Travis in response to call by the war department filled by the local board. Up to noon today 30 had reported and were told to report back at the exemption board office at 11 o'clock tonight, meanwhile to celebrate June 19 to the full but in sane and sensible manner, as they are in reality already United States soldiers and have the honor and integrity of the army to support. Thirty-three of these negroes go from Bryan and the remaining three from other points, two from Houston and one from Cooper. One negro came all the way from Victor, Colo., about 1500 miles, to report for duty.

Brunk Finley was designated to take command of the increment. He is a negro who was born on the college campus, raised there, attended school in Bryan and at Prairie View and has lived and worked with the college folks all his life. His brother has already gone to war and has been made a sergeant.

SIMPSON JOINS AVIATORS.
Sidney R. Simpson, who has been manager for the Colonial theater for a long time, left this afternoon on the 3:05 H. & T. C. train for Ellington field, above Galveston, to enter the aviation branch of the service. He is one of the new registrants and rather than wait until called to service he was released by the local board upon advice from Major Townes and has enlisted in the branch of service that appeals to him.

THREE TO CAMP MABRY.
The local exemption board sends to Camp Mabry on the 12:30 a. m. I. & G. N. train three white men who are to enter the auto mechanics training school there. These are James E. Weeden, Ollie Crenshaw and Joe R. Barnett.

CITY TAX LEVY OF $1.45 ON $100 FIXED BY THE COMMISSION

From Saturday's Daily Eagle
J. E. Hensarling was inducted into office of city commissioner last night at the regular meeting of the commission and was assigned to work on the sanitary and cemetery committees, the positions held by Dr. B. U. Sims, who resigned to go into the army.

Bids were opened for the concrete top on one of the water reservoirs. Only two were received, from Geo. A. Livingston and W. J. Ratliff. The matter was referred to Commissioners Burger and Haswell and City Manager Greer for arrangement of contract, if thought advisable at this time.

The tax levy for the ensuing year was made as provided by the city charter, this being the first meeting in the month of June and the last regular meeting for the fiscal year.

The levy was fixed as follows:
Fifty cents on the $100 for public school purposes.
Fifty cents on the $100 for general purposes, including the maintenance of streets out of which 3.24 cents is set aside to pay interest and create a sinking fund for the redemption of $1,000 registered warrants.

Twenty-five cents on the $100 to pay interest and create sinking funds for the redemption of bonds of the city of Bryan to-wit:
Street improvement, $1500.....$.65
Public improvement refunding No. 1, $3000..... .90
Public school building, $2500..... .90
No. 2, $7000..... 1.77
City hall, $8000..... 1.83
Water, light and sewer plant, $26,000..... 5.65
Waterworks improvement No. 1, $8000..... 1.78
Electric lights extension, $7000..... 1.55
Sewer extension, $5000..... 1.11
Street paving and grading No. 1, $25,000..... 5.48
Waterworks improvement No. 2, $10,000..... 2.24
Street paving and grading No. 2, $12,000..... 2.70
Sewer disposal, $8000..... 1.82
Total.....$28.76

The 3.76 cents in excess of the 25 cents levied for taking care of the bonds, must come from the general fund.

Twenty cents on the $100 to pay interest and provide for sinking fund for redeeming public school bonds of $90,000.
Poll tax $1.
The total tax levy is $1.45 on the $100.
The city has about $4000 less revenue in prospect during the coming year than last year, because of the closing of saloons and the falling off in corporation court fines. A decrease in the city's obligations, however, has been produced by the payments of bonds and warrants for which it is of course unnecessary now to levy for interest and sinking fund. A slight increase in property valuations will leave scarcely any appreciable effect on revenues.

The Houston and Texas Central railroad company appeared before the commission by its attorneys, Taliaferro & Armstrong and its agent, O. W. Williams, with reference to the improvement of the Adams street crossing. The matter was left in the hands of Armstrong and City Manager Greer, who will go over the situation together at the earliest convenience of Mr. Armstrong.

PUTMAN HAS MADE THIRTEEN VICTORIES OVER GERMAN AIRMEN

(By Associated Press)
Paris, June 19.—Sergeant David Putnam of Brooklyn, Mass., downed five German airplanes June 10. Three of his aerial victories are official and two are under investigation. The feat, according to Sergeant Putnam is the most notable of any American aviator. It has been eclipsed only once during the war, Lieutenant Rene Fonck, on May 9, bringing down six German machines.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT OF THE BRYAN WEEKLY EAGLE

The Stars and Stripes in Every Port.

The shipping board announced yesterday that over 100,000 tons of vessels had been launched in excess of losses occasioned by the German submarine on the Atlantic coast.

Chairman Hurley delivered a commencement address at Notre Dame, Indiana, early in the week and among other things he made the statement that we have under construction and contract $19 shipbuilding yards, including wood, steel and concrete, which is twice as many shipbuilding yards as there are in all the rest of the shipbuilding yards in the world. In other words, with these yards completed we will be able to put out two ships where the remainder of the world puts out one. But he gives us the impression that we will be able to do better than that. He points to the launching of the big collier Tuckahoe 27 days after the laying of the keel, a feat never before performed. We build ships almost in days that took months to build in peace times. We are doing it at a large expense of course because we are working 24 hours a day in many of the yards and long hours in all of them. American workmen, he says, have made the tremendous expansion of our merchant marine possible. On July 1, a year ago there were 45,000 men engaged in shipbuilding in this country. Now there are 300,000 in the yards and 250,000 in the allied industries, with a prospect of having a million men engaged in the shipbuilding industry in 1920. On July 1, 1916, we had not quite 2,500,000 tons of shipping under the American flag. We now have a total under the flag and in United States control by charter and otherwise, approximately 7,000,000 tons. And Chairman Hurley gives estimates that our yearly output should be around 15,500,000 tons, which is more than the output in any five-year period in the history of Great Britain, the greatest shipbuilding nation heretofore.

What does this mean? It means that the United States will absolutely be mistress of the seas within a few months and that once we get under full head of steam in the matter of shipbuilding we will continue to be mistress of the seas.

And what will that mean? It will mean that the United States will control the trade of the world. Where we have been dependent upon the ships of other nations to carry our merchandise the stars and stripes will fly over practically every ton of goods that goes out and comes in from the ports of the United States and the ports of the world. We are already having loaned billions of dollars to other nations, and we will continue to be so. Our trade policy is undergoing a revolution and instead of sitting tight at home and dealing only with those who seek us, we shall have trade with every country on the globe. Furthermore the American policy of the square deal and the high and righteous principles for which we fight will make us friends in trade as well as politics. Our national principles are the antipode of those of Germany.

Prussian militarism differs from a sane institution by its complete blindness to any other than its own point of view. True sanity consists in a normal adjustment to environment, with the qualities present which instinctively and intelligently respond to external truths. The result is the manifestation of those wholesome reactions to which have been given the names of civilization, art, culture and refinement in the intellectual field and lend meaning to the terms of honor, truth, right and justice in the moral fields.

Prussian militarism has deliberately broken down the means of access to these external influences. There is no longer any right but the German right, as the German military leaders choose to interpret it. What the German government is preaching to its people is that "the will to power," "the will to victory" is sufficient to bring victory, right or wrong. There are certain fundamental laws which all clear-headed men recognize as inflexible, but the Prussian military leaders have said that all these must be subordinated to Germany's will.

The Prussian leaders have taught that Germany's war, if successful in a military sense, can not fail in any material sense. The business men of Germany, according to well-authenticated statements which are available, are beginning to realize that good will is essential to world business, just as it is essential to domestic business. Until she restores the faith of mankind in her purpose she can not hope to regain her trade.

In the present war, America fights to protect her own life and liberty, but she fights as well for the freedom of humanity from Prussian domination. Throughout the world there is recognition of the fact that America has established an enlightened and humane code of international dealing under the moral leadership of that great statesman, President Wilson.

If that code of honest and generous dealing is to be maintained in peace—and upon its maintenance will depend the future peace and security of the world—America must be in a position to maintain it. This vast merchant fleet we are building will become the greatest instrument of international probity, honesty and square dealing at the close of the war. It will become the vast and vital machine whereby America will prevent the oppression of the weak by the strong; the crushing of right by might.

By mobilizing all the resources of America for after the war, this nation will be able to prevent the gathering of raw materials to be used for any selfish purpose by any selfish nation. The purpose and motives of the United States need no explanation or defense. The life blood of the nation is being shed on French soil for the course of America in this war is a guarantee of the nation's integrity in safeguarding the weak against the strong after the war.

No longer can there be any question that we will have the means, as well as the desire to safeguard the nations of the world from selfish intrigue and sordid manipulation of the world's markets in the future. The great fleet we are building guarantees the achievement of this unselfish purpose. Inspired by the enthusiasm and energy of the greatest organizer America has produced—Charles M. Schwab—whose unmatched abilities and splendid services the government recently commended, and Chas. Piez, vice president of the emergency fleet corporation, who has spent six months developing an organization, our shipyards are getting their gait and setting a pace that would have seemed incredible in those very recent times when steamships required all the way from six months to two years to build.

America's character has taken on world proportions as the result of the present war. Always recognized by foreign nations as a lover of fair play on this side of the continent, America has simply carried her love for fair play into a larger sphere. Other nations are agreed that there can be no temporary peace; that all that has been sacrificed would be in vain if there should ever be a recurrence of the world conflict. The heroic role which America must therefore play is that of a clear-headed nation which, knowing the essential elements of justice, sees to it that justice is maintained internationally as well as domestically.

Unless the war ends more quickly than observers think probable the stars and stripes will be flying in every port of the world before German ports will have been opened and the shipping there bottled up shall have been released. The shipping board already has in mind the utilization of vast quantities of this vast tonnage we are building. A regular weekly passenger and freight service between New York and Rio Janeiro, Montevideo, Buenos Aires and other south Atlantic ports will have been established. Our Latin-American neighbors in Central America and on the Pacific coast in South America will be served by elegant steamers plying in regular service. Our eyes have been turned on Russia, and having stood steadfast beside her in her troubles she will reward us in a commercial way after the war and our steamers will go to her ports in vast numbers. China, Japan, Australia and other parts of the Orient will be served by vessels flying the stars and stripes. And we shall serve Europe as Europe has never been served before, because Europe will be more kindly disposed in our direction than ever in the past and will be a strong and steady customer.

What does this all mean for interior America?

It means and industrial development the like of which we have never dreamed. It means that we will be seriously put to it to supply the demands of our foreign trade. It therefore behooves every city and every town to study the situation, get inside information and build accordingly for the future. We have been told that the cotton goods trade will continue to be tremendous in the years that are to follow the war. Hence, Bryan and every other town in the midst of the cotton fields of the Brazos valley should take steps to reap the rich reward that seems to be waiting for us in the years to come. For not only will the stars and stripes fly in every port in the world but the stamp, "Made in U. S. A." will stand out boldly on nearly every piece of goods on every foreign dock.

BRAZOS TEACHERS ARE INSTITUTE AT COLLEGE.

To the Bryan Daily Eagle:

There appeared in The Eagle Saturday an article implying that the teachers of Brazos county and Bryan are not co-operating in the plan for a joint teachers institute to be held at College Station during the week beginning Sept. 9. The writer of the article was evidently not acquainted with all the facts for it is true that Superintendent W. L. Powers and his teachers assembled in annual institute last September instigated the movement for the joint teachers institute that is to be held at College Station. The Brazos county teachers voted to hold their institute at College Station and with the advice and consent of the president of A. and M. college invited the teachers of Grimes county to join.

The plans for this meeting are rapidly nearing completion and all the teachers of Brazos county, including teachers of Bryan, are giving most hearty co-operation and will be present at the institute. It gives me pleasure to announce that the teachers of Grimes county, Madison county and Burleson county are also joining in the institute.

HOOVER URGES LIMIT ON USE OF BEEF.

The latest but by no means the last word in conservation of beef requests that all hotels and restaurants place on their menus or serve boiled beef no more than two meals weekly, beef steak no more than one meal weekly and roast beef no more than one meal weekly. Householders are not to buy more than one and one-quarter pounds of clear beef weekly or one and one-half pounds including the bones per person.

If you have the itch don't scratch. It does not cure the troubles and makes the skin bleed. Apply Ballard's Snow Liniment. Rub it in gently on the affected parts. It relieves itching instantly and a few applications removes the cause thus performing a permanent cure. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by E. J. Jenkins.

The Limit of Our Luxuries.

Secretary McAdoo has expressed a desire to congress that the revenue bill now in course of preparation shall provide for the raising of $8,000,000,000 by taxation, as much as possible of that to come from luxuries. The first thought of the average man whose income is $1500 to $2000 a year is that he will not be hit by the law, because he is having no luxuries; he can not afford luxuries. And right there he is mistaken, when we make a sharp cleavage between necessities and luxuries.

What are necessities? We must eat, we must sleep and we must have protection against the elements, hence we must have clothing of some sort that will keep us warm in winter and protect us from the sun's rays in summer, we having become soft through ages of wearing apparel.

What are luxuries? When we make the charge cleavage, luxuries would be those things that are not absolutely necessary. It is not necessary that we have coffee and tea; lots of people in the world do not have them and are as well off without them. Sugar as a commercial commodity is a new element. We can make our old clothes do for a few more winters or summers, as the case may be. We can get along with a smaller house and a smaller property. We can do without the automobile for pleasure purposes. We can cut the corners in a thousand ways if we want to live strictly to the line and cut out luxuries.

But—If it weren't that most of us desire luxuries it would be impossible to keep a factory open more than four days a week.

Necessities are not a large item, proportionately in the budget of the average family of the middle class in which is included all of the working population above ordinary day labor.

By necessities we have in mind ordinary dwelling quarters, ordinary food and simple clothing, with a minimum of service.

The motive that keeps men and women at work after their animals' deeds have been met is the desire to satisfy wants which are known as luxuries.

The luxuries of course soon become necessities and men and women will continue to buy them as long as they can get the money to do so. They desire the luxuries more than the leisure which would be theirs if they were willing to forego everything except the necessities of life. This is illustrated in coal districts where, during the periods of prosperity, the operators are unable to get the men to work more than three or four days a week. The reason is that the mines are located in villages where the standard of living is low. The desire for luxuries, for better homes, better clothing, better education and better service is not created either by advertising or by example. 'Three days' pay at a high hourly rate gives an income sufficient to satisfy the primitive wants of these miners for a week.

Go to the cities where the standards of living is high and constantly going higher and you will find men willing to work overtime, because overtime work means more pay, an opportunity to satisfy wants unfulfilled.

Under this plan it is presumed that the energy which has been used in the production of luxuries will be diverted to the manufacture of essential war materials and that the money that has been used to buy luxuries will be available for the government's needs. While this is as it should be, probably the patriotic enthusiasm of the people must be maintained at a high pitch in order that there may be maintained a compelling motive to earn more and save more. We certainly do not want to reduce ourselves to the bare necessities of life as a living standard. Our wants, the wants of the middle class of this country which compose the bulk of the population are above the primitive and should be held there. We should be particularly mindful of what might be called necessities luxuries, those things that, while not primitive necessities are nevertheless essential to our comfort and happiness. The government in the organization of the great army has recognized these. Entertainment, amusement and relaxation are provided for the men in a manner and to an extent never attempted before by any government, with the result that we have the happiest soldiers and the best fighters because they are happy. And so it should be in our civil life. We must make up our minds to do away with many things, but we can not afford for the sake of our national life to surrender everything except the primitive needs.

Numbers on the American casualty lists are growing greater each day, which means of course that fighting forces under the stars and stripes are being increased. They will continually grow larger until the war shall have ended, and many an American home will be saddened, some more deeply than others, because of difference in temperaments and difference in deaths. To the sterling American father and mother who give their boys to Uncle Sam to aid in the most righteous cause for which any army ever went to war, there is pride mingled with sadness when the news comes that the boy has been killed in action or died as a result of wounds sustained in battle. There is more sadness occasioned when the boy dies of disease or accident without having been given opportunity to show his mettle and deliver his share of the blow at the despicable Huns. But the saddest scene must be in that family where the boy was taken before he ever left the training camp. When we think of these we recall the incident of a short while ago of a German couple in southwest Texas. They had left Germany because it had ceased to be to them the fatherland of the olden times, and they had come to America where they could be free and where their boys could be away from military domination and they, too, could be free. Living in a German colony the parents had never learned English. They had twin boys, 18 years of age. They took them to a recruiting office and willingly surrendered them to Uncle Sam. Then a few weeks afterward one of the boys returned to them and a little later the other, both having died of pneumonia in camp before they had been given a chance to fight for that freedom for which their parents had so willingly sacrificed doubly, and their hearts must bleed because things turned out as they did.

RED CROSS NETS $360 FROM THE SALE HELD HERE SATURDAY

Mrs. Will Howell states that the Bryan chapter Red Cross will probably clear about $360 as a result of the Junior Red Cross sale here Saturday in connection with the awarding of prizes in the several scholarships. The total expense of the affair was about $6. Everything offered was sold and it was some variety of stuff and in great quantities, probably four times as much being offered this year as was last year. One girl gave about 50 cans of stuff she had put up and others brought in vegetables of every kind including the first fruits of the watermelon vines and chickens. B. Shiba bought largely for the soldiers and others at the college and at supper Sunday fed 1634 men, largely with the products of Brazos county girls.

An error in the publication of awards was made in The Eagle Saturday. Miss Lillie Gilpin of Kurten won the second prize for poultry.

The contestants in the affair this year numbered 82, and were as follows:

Mae Ayers, Maggie Krus, Annie Hebern, Lucy Dukoria, Leona Dukoria, Rosa Morrell, Lena Scardino, Bonnie Belle Smith, Angeline Brandesky, Mary Oujesky, Emma Kosarek, Lizzie Atkins, Bessie Atkins, Winnie Gandy, Mearl Gandy, Emma Sebesta, Mary Lizzie Tabor, Laura Weinzeith, Gladys Cowan, Albina Kulak, Alberta Carroll, Norma Cargill, Mamie Carr, Ellen Hair, Alta Williams, Thedie Cobbs, Mildred Peters, Florence Dyer, Rosa Kulak, Christine Boriskine, Helen Turk, Clara Stasny, Christine Weinzeith, Annie Holik, Annie Blazek, Mary Jones, Pearl McCallum, Dora Shuford, Alma McCallum, Leona Stalhings, Ophelia Wilcox, Jewel Mathis, Florence Conway, Agnes Conway, Rebecca Halle, Amy Bullock, Bessie Fuller, Daisy Burt, Lorine Curlee, Lenore Burt, Maxie Mathis, Ruth Lloyd, Vivian Martin, Bertha Satz, Julia Mathis, Myrtle Mathis, Maud Saxon, Ella Mae Stewart, Thelma Lloyd, Lillie Saxon, Jewel Mathis, Fronie Kroleyzky, Florence Means, Clifford Means, Gussie Byars, Lillie Belle Gilpin, Maudie Horne, Pauline Bargar, Bessie Shepard, Lenora Echols, Mearl Henry, Pauline Thompson, Norma Ruth Hill, Maud Moore, Mayte Thompson, Jettie Nash, Dorothy Broach, Ray Elliot, Lois Wilcox.

TRIAL OF SUIT FOR $24,000 FOR PERSONAL INJURIES AT CROSSING

From Friday's Daily Eagle
Before a jury in the district court there is on trial a personal injury damage suit in which Jewel McVey of Minter Springs, by her next friend, W. H. McVey, is suing the Houston and Texas Central railroad company for $24,000. In the amended original petition, upon which the case is based, the plaintiff sets out that she, on April 21, 1917, was about to cross the tracks of the Central railroad in an automobile driven by J. I. Stuckey and that an engine and cars of defendant without warning or proper precautions against accident, bore down upon them. She claims that to save herself she jumped from the automobile and sustained injuries to her back and spine and sustained bruises and lacerations, joints, ligaments and tendons were torn and bruised and injured to such an extent that she has been confined to her home and bed much of the time since, tuberculosis of the lungs has developed and she is still suffering from nervous breakdown.

In the answer to this, filed by the company, it is asserted that the alleged injuries are vague, indefinite and uncertain. It is also asserted that the injuries are in part due to the negligence of the plaintiff in that she knew of the ordinary dangers of the crossing and should have taken precautions or warned Stuckey to do so. The claim that the speed of the engine and cars exceeded the limit prescribed by the city ordinance, six miles an hour, is alleged to be insufficient as the allegations thereto refer to the conclusions of the pleader. It is also set up that she was negligent in that she negligently jumped from the automobile. It is asserted that the servants and employees in charge of the engine and cars took proper precautions and immediately used all means at hand to exercise proper care.

The plaintiff is represented by Hon. W. C. Davis and Hon. Lamar Bethea, and the defendant company by Tallaford & Armstrong of Bryan and Stribling & Stribling of Dallas.

LAST MEMBER OF HOOD'S BRIGADE HAS PASSED AWAY

From Saturday's Daily Eagle
The last member of Hood's brigade in this county passed to his reward last evening when John J. Stacey died in his home in Bryan. He had resided here about a half century, living with his mother and brother up to the time of her death and the brother, both bachelors having kept on with the home. The brother, H. P. Stacey, survives, as does another brother, William, who lives with his family at Navasota. Mr. Stacey went through the war between the states and carried to his grave the marks of a wound received at Gettysburg that permanently crippled his left hand. He was born October 15, 1842.

The funeral was held this morning from the home on Twenty-third street, Rev. C. E. Bullock conducting the services. The pallbearers were T. P. Boyett, John M. Lawrence, C. A. Buchanan, C. L. Beason, J. W. Conlee and Ben Knox.

Negro Is In Jail As Draft Dodger

From Friday's Daily Eagle
On instructions from the Imperial county board of El Centro, California, Texas Ranger J. B. Dunn placed in jail here today a negro who registered at El Centro under the name of Otis Thomas Ingram. He is known here as Miller. The negro had in his pocket at the time one of the notification cards from the Imperial county board, instructing him to appear for physical examination or something of the sort. Mr. Dunn knew of the negro's return, knew he had not registered in this county but claimed to have registered in California and he wired the California board that he was here. The telegraph answer came back instructing him to arrest the negro, have him given a physical examination and if found qualified to send him to a camp. He will be examined and sent to the camp at Waco with other negroes on June 19. The negro seems to have offended more through ignorance than anything else, and now declares he is anxious to go to war. He went to the local board and Clerk George Griffin advised him to get a transfer from California to this county, even writing a telegram for him to send. Whether he ever sent it is not known. At any rate he was classed by the California board as a delinquent.

AMERICAN FARMER PAYS TO POINCAIRE HIS SHARE OF DEBT

(By Associated Press)
Paris, June 15.—President Poincare has received from an American farmer $50, a tenth of his worldly possessions, to pay in part America's debt to Lafayette. The incident evokes great enthusiasm in the French press. La Liberte uses the incident as the inspiration for a long article in praise of Americans.

ALL CANDIDATES GET NAME ON BALLOT

Ed Crenshaw, chairman of the county executive committee, stated this morning that as far as he knew practically every candidate had filed his application to have his name placed on the ballot for the July 27 primaries. Some, in the outlying precincts who are to run for justice of the peace and constable, may yet be to come, and they have until midnight to get their names in. However, Mr. Crenshaw hopes they will not keep up until that hour.

The committee will meet at the court house Monday at 2 p. m. and make up the schedule of assessments. Of course it is not known what the committee will do, but it is understood that the policy is going to be to base the assessments on the amount the respective offices pay.

Brazos Women Will Register for Primary

County Collector McCulloch has received from Attorney General Looney a revision of his first ruling in reference to the registration of women in Brazos county, he now stating that it will be better and safer for the women to register that they may vote in the primaries next month. Accordingly Mr. McCulloch has ordered the necessary blanks and will have them here in time, that is by June 27. The first lady to make a request for registration is Mrs. Jim Ray, whom he told could not register until the date set therefor. Mrs. S. W. Buchanan also made a similar request under the impression that she could vote in the city election if she registered, and with her at the time was Mrs. J. M. Barron. The women can vote only in the primaries and in none of the regular elections until the constitution shall have been amended. If they elect the right legislature through the primaries next month a constitutional amendment will be submitted next year.

Soldiers Deserted and Left Clothes

From Friday's Daily Eagle
City Manager Greer turned over to Postmaster Lawrence this morning two suits of soldier uniforms found a few days ago beneath the mattress of a bed in the Central hotel. Mr. Greer wrote the authorities at Camp Logan, Houston, telling him the clothes had been left and hidden at the hotel by two soldiers who came in on the mid-night train and left on the next train, they having come from the direction of Houston. Evidently they deserted the service. In response to this Captain Stanley Tappen of the quartermaster's department wrote instructing Mr. Greer to turn the uniforms over to the postmaster for forwarding to the camp. The uniforms were numbered and bore other identification marks so that the government will trace up the original wearers.

WOMAN'S HOBBY CLUB PRODUCED SURPRISES IN MASS MEETING

Almost astounding were the revelations produced at the mass meeting fostered by the Woman's Hobby Club of Brazos county held at the court house Saturday afternoon. All who spoke declared they had always been in favor of equal suffrage and were now supporters of William P. Hobby for governor. The club ladies had arranged for this symposium and had let the word go forth that the candidates would all be permitted four minutes in which to declare the policies they will pursue if elected and their allegiance in the race for governor. Of course each speaker spoke ardently in favor of equal suffrage and for Hobby for governor, really becoming so eloquent in speaking of suffrage they barely had time to finish in the four minutes allotted. Several hundred people, ladies and gentlemen, were present. A number of out of town candidates who were expected to speak were unavoidably detained.

It took quite a bit of courage for the candidates to appear before this mass meeting of women but they "screwed their courage up to the sticking point" and bravely faced the women as they would face a roaring cannon and really they made good talks. The women did not fail to realize their importance on this occasion for they feel that back of them stands the biggest man in all the world today, Woodrow Wilson. It was a meeting full of interest to the hundreds who were present and there were some very humorous incidents to enliven the occasion. As each candidate extolled the women (and no one doubted their sincerity) one could see smiles of approval on the faces of the feminine portion of the audience and a few shy winks from the men. Altogether the meeting was a big success, full of pep and enthusiasm and on July 27 the ladies declare they will win a big victory for Hobby and clean politics.

Mrs. M. W. Sims, county chairman for this club, called the meeting to order and on presenting the first speaker, said:

"Many years ago Alexander Pope wrote 'An honest man is the noblest work of God.' A cynic added 'An honest man is the rarest work of God.' Ladies and gentlemen I have the great pleasure of presenting to you this noble and rare specimen (according to Pope) an honest man, Mr. Law Henderson, who will now take charge of this meeting. Mr. Henderson claims that he is trembling in his boots as this is a brand new experience in his life, presiding over a woman's meeting, but he will soon regain his equilibrium and feel confident that he will preside as gracefully as the president of the Woman's club herself could do."

Mr. Henderson then took charge of the meeting and presented the candidates for office in Brazos county, giving each of them four minutes.

Mr. Satterfield of Franklin spoke on behalf of Senator Decherd's candidates for congress, and Judge H. S. Morehead and Judge W. C. Davis both spoke on the importance of women voting in this next election and they paid some beautiful tributes to the patriotism, loyalty and efficiency of woman.

KAISER DECLARES MILITARISM IS TO BRING VICTORY

(By Associated Press)

Amsterdam, June 17.—Prussian militarism will bring victory to Germany, says the kaiser, answering congratulations on the 13th anniversary of his accession from von Hertling. The kaiser says he leads "the most capable people on earth." He says he did his work as a prince of peace until he was forced to wage war.

The kaiser said God has laid a heavy burden on his shoulders but "I carry it in consciousness of right. I know Prussian militarism, so much abused by our enemies, which my forefathers and I in a spirit of dutifulness and loyalty upheld, will bring peace. It then will be my sacred duty to heal the wounds and secure a happy future for the nation."

WOUNDED SAMMIE MADE PRISONER OF HIS GERMAN CAPTOR

(By Associated Press)

With American Army in France, June 17.—In a German attack on Xivray yesterday the Germans captured a wounded American. He was started toward the German lines but upon reaching the enemy entanglements he suddenly drew a revolver, surprised his captor and marched the German back to the American lines. After turning the prisoner over to his fellow soldiers the American fell unconscious from loss of blood.

In the attack on the village of Xivray on the Toul sector yesterday the Germans hoped to enter the village and carry off a large number of prisoners. The alertness of the American artillery thwarted them. The Germans planned the raid a week in advance and rehearsed it with 600 picked troops. The Americans, however, played havoc with the plans and broke up the attack.

The German plan was to send forward raiders without artillery preparations. They were to go to the barbed wire, then send up a rocket for a box barrage to cover the village and communication trenches. American artillery observers saw the raiders creeping to No Man's Land, started artillery and machine gun fire and cut up the raiders before they could signal for their barrage. Only a few Germans got to Xivray and these were killed or captured.

770 MEN ARRIVE AT COLLEGE FOR AUTO MECHANICS COURSE

(From Monday's Daily Eagle)

Nearly 800 new mechanics began work at A. and M. college today, a new specially indented draft of 770 men having arrived to take the place of the first contingent graduated at college last week, thus swelling the total number of soldiers to receive special training at the hands of A. and M. college to 2400. This number includes 1150 mechanics and 1250 signal corps men.

While the bulk of the men arrived Saturday afternoon and night a few came in today and by tonight Captain F. W. Zeller and his assistants will have all of the new recruits registered and classified and ready for the intensive work that will be given them during the next two months.

To care for the instruction of this large number of new men in auto mechanics—680 of the new contingent being assigned to that course—the department of agricultural engineering, in which this course is given, has completed a large shop 100x240 feet and 20 additional instructors in the various phases of automobile and motor truck work have been added by Prof. R. A. Andree, head of the department. A large two-story barracks capable of accommodating 250 men, was completed last week and is being occupied while two more will be built immediately.

Fifty of the new men will take blacksmithing and machinery work in the new department of mechanical engineering, under Prof. E. J. Fernier, while 40 carpenters will be trained for special work under the direction of the department of buildings and grounds, superintended by W. W. Kraft.

While the exact number of men being trained at other institutions in this section of the country is not available, the indications are that more soldiers are being trained at A. and M. college than at any other southern institution.

ARRESTS TO FOLLOW CAPTURE OF O'LEARY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 17.—The capture of Jeremiah O'Leary probably will be followed soon by the arrest of a number of other Irish agitators for treason and espionage.

The government has considerable undisclosed evidence against O'Leary. Others may go free if they tell all they know of the actions of Irish agitators here and of German agents.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make this beauty lotion for five cents and see for yourself.

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quart of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.—Adv.

CITY GETS $5000 FOR CLAIM ON MAIN ST. PAVING CONTRACT

(From Friday's Daily Eagle)

George A. Adams, as local agent for the American Indemnity company, which stood behind the Westmire Paving company's contract on the Main street paving work, this morning received a check for $5000 in settlement of the city's claim for deterioration of the pavement. The city commission immediately had a called session to take care of the necessary legal details with reference to this matter and to get them properly recorded in the minutes. Just as soon as these shall have been completed the check will be turned over to the city.

This matter has been hanging fire for several months. City Manager Greer took it up shortly after he came into the position last fall and for a time there was only a desultory correspondence on the subject. The bonding company seemed disposed to be dilatory until finally Mr. Greer went to Galveston, where the main office of the company is located and assured the officials that the city was not trying to hold up the company but had a real and honest claim. Then their engineer came up, looked over the pavement and agreed with the city's engineer that the city was due something. With the constantly rising costs of materials it was found difficult to get a contractor to make a bid on the work of repair as a basis for completing negotiations.

Then the attorney for the company visited Bryan, looked over the records and the condition of the pavement and the next heard from the company was an offer of $5000 in settlement of all claims under this contract. The city commission accepted this providing payment be made by June 15. The money was forthcoming a day ahead of the time limit.

The city will likely take steps now to make repairs on the pavement immediately, as it is going very rapidly in some places, the foundation even suffering.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Adams, having found the record and documents in the order required by the bonding company, turned the check over to City Manager Greer and it was placed in the bank to the city's credit.

SUB ACTIVITY OFF AMERICAN COAST IS NOT SERIOUS MENACE

(By Associated Press)

London, June 15.—German submarine activity off the American coast is not a serious menace in the opinion of Vice Admiral Weymas, first lord of the British admiralty, who expressed the opinion that only one submarine is in American waters. He said German ruthlessness at sea must be met by centralized warfare in the North Sea and the Mediterranean. He paid a high tribute to the co-operation of the American navy in European waters. The American ships are also operating in the Mediterranean and off Gibraltar. He said, "Germany can't hope to maintain a blockade. The distance is too great. She has merely made a demonstration in hope of causing the United States to decentralize efforts to down the submarine. The object is to frighten the Americans. Any submarine to reach American coast must pass either north or south of the British Isles or by Gibraltar. We must fight submarines in the narrow seas."

"The Germans have been studying the charts and in sending one of their submarine cruisers to the American coast they thought to raise an outcry in the United States against the policy now pursued of fighting submarines in narrow seas. They failed in bringing the war home to the Americans, reminding them of the common interest in conquering the power which invented this modern piracy."

GERMAN EFFORTS FAIL.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 15.—Assistant Secretary Roosevelt points out the advantages of United States naval strategy. The German effort to break up concentration by sending submarines to this side has utterly failed, he says.

Cincinnati man discovers drug that loosens corns so they lift out.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing freezone, the recent discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any store which handles drugs, but this is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn or toughened callus and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn or callus is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.—Adv.

WILKERSON LEAVES CITY NATIONAL TO GO TO ALAMO NATIONAL

A. W. Wilkerson, for 16 years cashier of the City National bank of Bryan, has been offered the position of cashier of the Alamo National bank of San Antonio and has accepted it. He will leave Bryan about July 15, and elsewhere in The Eagle today is offering his home place for sale preparatory to departure.

Mr. Wilkerson has been in the banking business about 30 years and with the exception of about a month has worked for banks bearing the name of City National. He was for 15 years with the City National at Austin before coming to Bryan, taking the position with what was then Merchants and Planters National bank of Bryan. This was in March, 1902, and on April 22 following the name of the bank was changed to City National bank of Bryan. At that time it occupied the room which it recently vacated because its business had outgrown it, the growth in business being indicated by the fact that in the spring he came here the deposits were about $135,000 and this past spring, at the same comparative period they were around $1,000,000. Mr. Wilkerson was much interested in the new banking room, took a deep personal interest in it, and was active in watching the construction and details, with the result that there are no handsome banking rooms anywhere than this.

Mr. Wilkerson in the 16 years he has spent here has become closely identified with the interests of the town and surrounding country. He has been an active and willing worker in the business club and has given time and money to the progress of the city through that agency, as well as all others. He is president of the local chapter of the Red Cross, and a member of the vestry of St. Andrew's church and one of the staunch supporters of both. He has many interests here.

"I will leave Bryan with deepest feelings of regret. I am really sorry that these people made me such an offer I could not afford to turn down," he said in speaking of the matter. "I have grown into the interests of this town and community and have become a part of the life here and it is going to be hard for me to break away from it."

Mr. Wilkerson's place in the Alamo National bank is made as a result of growth of the business there, the present cashier having moved up to a vice presidency, of which there will be two active, and Mr. Wilkerson is placed in the vacancy thus created. His place in the City National will be taken by W. H. Cole, cashier of the First State Bank and Trust company, concerning which a more extended notice will appear later.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

HIGGS IS CHAIRMAN COUNTY COMMITTEE OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY

From Tuesday's Daily Eagle
W. S. Higgs was elected chairman, majority rule was endorsed, which means a probability of a second primary, voting places in some precincts were changed, the number of delegates to the county convention was fixed and assessments were placed upon the candidates for the expenses of holding the county primary election July 27 by the county Democratic committee which met in the court house yesterday afternoon.

The committee met at 2 o'clock and remained in session about two hours. J. W. Batts was elected secretary but as he had to leave the meeting before it was over Law Henderson was made temporary secretary.

Ed Crenshaw resigned as chairman and W. S. Higgs was elected in his place.

E. H. Astin resigned as chairman of precinct 10 and Law Henderson was elected to the vacancy.

It was voted that each precinct chairman hold the election in his respective precinct. Chairmen are to hand in their names to the county chairman before July 8, of those who are to represent the precincts in the county convention. The apportionment of delegates is as follows:

Precinct No. 1-3, No. 2-2, No. 3-5, No. 4-4, No. 5-2, No. 6-3, No. 7-2, No. 8-3, No. 9-5, No. 10-9, No. 11-14.

It was voted that majority rule shall obtain in the primaries instead of pluralities as in the past. This is in conformity with the state primary rule and means that where there are more than two candidates for an office, none of whom receives in excess of half the votes cast, a second primary will be necessary between the two highest men. In this county there is a possibility of a second primary, as there are three candidates for each of the positions of sheriff, treasurer and commissioner from precinct No. 1. The governor's race also presents four candidates, although it seems improbable that a second primary will result from that race, but the possibility is there.

The voting place in the Tabor precinct was changed to the Tabor high school and in precinct No. 11, Bryan, from the city hall to the old City National bank corner.

The committee to arrange the ticket for the primary election is to meet July 8 for this purpose. The committee is composed of J. W. Batts, F. L. Henderson, John Kosarek, W. P. Moore and I. M. Cook.

Assessments of candidates for the purpose of raising funds for the conduct of the primary were fixed as follows: All state and district offices, $1; tax collector, assessor, sheriff, county clerk and county judge, $65 each; county attorney $80; district clerk and county superintendent, $50; treasurer, $40; commissioners, $30 each; constables in the city, $5; in the county, $2.50; justices of the peace in the city, $5; in the county, $2.50.

MRS. LINAM HAS GAINED 27 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC

"I Now Enjoy Better Health Than I Have in Years," She Declares.

"I now enjoy better health than I have in years and I can't refrain from letting my friends and others know how thankful I am for what Tanlac has done for me," said Mrs. E. M. Linam of 2310 Chester street, Little Rock, Ark., recently in one of the most remarkable statements yet published in connection with the "Master Medicine."

"In the winter of 1916," Mrs. Linam continued, "I was taken with a severe cold and all the winter I continued to go down. I had no appetite, kept losing weight and in March was completely broken down. I couldn't sleep for coughing and had to sit up in bed most all night. I was extremely nervous and weak, felt tired all the time and everything I ate soured on my stomach. I fell off 19 pounds in seven weeks and was getting worse so rapidly that my family and friends as well as myself saw no hope of my recovery."

"My husband brought home a bottle of Tanlac in June, 1916, and after I took about half of it I began to eat and my food stopped souring on my stomach. After finishing my first bottle I could eat anything at any time without it hurting me in the least. At the end of my third week I had gained five and one-half pounds and had improved until I was able to take a trip to Texas. My husband sent me Tanlac by mail and I kept taking it and picking up from three to four pounds every week until all my troubles were gone and my weight was increased from 113 pounds to 140, making an actual gain of 27 pounds. I don't only give Tanlac credit for my splendid condition but I really believe it has saved my life, and my family and friends all agree with me."

Tanlac is sold in Bryan by N. A. Stewart, in Edge by Moore & Payne, in Wellborn by J. B. Royder, in Allen-farm by Terrell Brothers and in Tabor by J. K. Presnal.

SAMMIES OVER THERE EXCEED 800,000 SAYS THE CHIEF OF STAFF

(By Associated Press)
Washington, June 15.—American troops sent to France now number more than 800,000, Chief of Staff March has announced.

Troops now being transported are limited only by the capacity of the ships to carry them, he said, "and we will continue to ship along this line."

General March said four German drives so far are a part of the common scheme of the offensive. Up to the present, he said, the extension of the allied front from Rheims to the sea had reached 60 miles. To hold that additional troops are necessary. He said it is obvious the objective of the German advance is first the channel ports to slow up the transportation of troops.

The chief of staff viewed the present offensive as an endeavor to straighten out the German line rather than advance with their objective as Paris.

From Tuesday's Daily Eagle
Philip Hermer has sold his stock of goods to Gelber & Son, who will conduct dry goods business on the same or similar lines. Mr. Gelber was formerly of the firm of B. The purchase is made on the basis of the value of the stock and stock taking will be done this week.

BRYAN WOMAN'S CLUB RURAL CONTEST ENDS AND PRIZES AWARDED

From Saturday's Daily Eagle

The third annual contest inaugurated and conducted under the auspices of the Woman's club of Bryan among the rural women and girls of Brazos county for five free scholarships to the summer short course of the A. and M. college, closed today. It was a splendid closing to one of the most successful contests the club has yet conducted, and the results will not only be beneficial to the contestants themselves, but the displays of garden and orchard products shown here today were a revelation to all who saw them and opened the eyes of all visitors to the possibilities of Brazos county. And right here let it be said that this was one of the chief objects of the Woman's club in inaugurating these annual contests, that our rural young people, both girls and boys, may catch this greater vision, learn that greater things can be done by new and improved methods, and thus get out of the old ruts and come into a greater activity, a greater prosperity—in other words a greater and broader life.

Long ago the rural people realized the practical value of the instruction given at the college short course and no sooner was the announcement of the contest made in the early spring than the entrants began to send in their names to Mrs. W. S. Howell, chairman of the rural committee of the club, and preparation for the work to be done under the rules of the contest were begun in earnest. All through the year the contestants have worked faithfully and earnestly and as the results of their efforts began to be apparent the enthusiasm of the workers grew and the splendid results shown today were a fitting climax, the full fruition of a year of patient and earnest effort.

The contest this year was for five free scholarships to the short course and were to be contested for in the following manner:

1. Best home garden to be visited and judged at close of contest.

2. Greatest number of young chickens raised to be counted and checked on the yard by the judges.

3. Best display of fresh fruits and vegetables from home garden shown in Bryan at close of contest.

4. Best display of canned fruits and vegetables produced and canned by the contestants.

5. Best display of dried fruits and vegetables also grown and dried by contestants.

June 15 was fixed as the date for the contest to close, and as on all similar occasions, a large number of people, friends and relatives of the contestants came out to see the results of the year's work and learn the names of the winners. There were practically—contestants for the several scholarships and the displays brought in of fruits and vegetables in endless profusion, fresh, canned and dried, were as fine as any ever shown here, or shown anywhere else for that matter. They were just simply perfect and proved beyond all question that as fine fruits and vegetables, particularly vegetables, can be grown in Brazos county as anywhere under the shining sun. A striking feature of the exhibits was the multitude of varieties shown by the contestants which ranged from 14 to 42.

This was the third year the Woman's club has conducted these contests, and it is beyond question one of the very greatest works yet done by them, notwithstanding the very many excellent and praiseworthy accomplishments to their credit. The interest shown in the rural women and girls of the county and their desire for a closer relationship with them, can not result otherwise than in permanent and lasting good. Professor Kyle, dean of the school of agriculture of the college, says the Woman's club of Bryan is the only woman's organization in the state promoting this form of work and they are certainly entitled to the highest praise and commendation for it.

Such work will not only better rural conditions in many ways but it will inspire the women and girls of the country for better homes, for better and more beautiful surroundings, for greater conveniences, in other words for the same advantages for the rural as for the urban home, something they have not heretofore had. The work will build up a closer fellowship and co-operation between the women of town and their sisters in the country and cement them together in bonds of friendship and kindly interest that will live forever. It is a great and patriotic work by a great and patriotic body of women. The success of the contest this year has been due largely to the faithful work of Mrs. W. S. Howell, chairman of the rural committee of the club, and it is only fair to her that this mention be made.

The judges for the gardens and chickens were Miss Manning and Mr. Everett of the extension department of the college and they in company with Mrs. Howell, visited the several contestants at their homes this week and judged the gardens, counted and checked the chickens. The judges for the canned and dried vegetables were Miss Merwin and Miss Higgins, also of the extension department, and for the fresh vegetables, Professor Kyle, Miss Manning and A. J. Buchanan.

The excellence of the several displays made a decision difficult, but after a careful inspection by the judges, awards were made as follows:

Best home garden, first, Florence Conway, Steep Hollow, scholarship donated by Woman's club. Second, Daisy Burt, Steep Hollow, scholarship donated by Professor E. J. Kyle.

Greatest number of chickens, first, Emma Kosarek, Smetana, scholarship donated by Woman's club. Second, Lenora Echols, Edge, check for $6.

Best display of fresh vegetables, first, Agnes Conway, Steep Hollow, scholarship donated by Woman's club. No second.

Best display canned goods, first, Bessie Fuller, Harvey, scholarship, donated by Woman's club. No second.

Best display of dried vegetables, first, Jewell Mathis, Steep Hollow, scholarship donated by Woman's club. No second.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION IN THIS COUNTY HAS BEEN ENLARGED

The food administration has issued the following:

Definite measures to limit retail prices are announced by the United States food administration. Through the medium of standardized "fair price lists," to be published in practically every county, hamlet, town and city in the country, food administration officials expect to protect the consumer from unreasonable price advances. By binging prices to a uniform level the food administration will not only protect the average buyer, but will also protect the patriotic merchant who has followed its suggestions from the unscrupulous dealer who has attempted to take advantage of the situation.

In every community the food administration will establish price interpreting committees composed of representatives of the wholesalers, retailers and consumers. This interpreting board will ascertain fair retail prices on the basic commodities that comprise a large part of the peoples' diet. The published lists will give the range of maximum selling prices—showing a reasonable low price, which will reflect charges that should rule in "cash and carry" stores, and a high price, representing a fair charge at "credit and delivery" shops.

Tradesmen on the boards will be appointed by the trades and will serve with a representative of the consuming interests, the local food administrator acting as chairman. Retail members of the committee will represent both the "cash and carry" and "credit and delivery" stores.

In this county the new organization is as follows:

C. L. Beason, county food administrator, Bryan.

H. C. Fulgham, county deputy food administrator, Bryan.

Local administrators:

E. J. Kyle, College Station.

H. N. Cash, Bryan.

W. B. English, Bryan, R. F. D. 6.

E. U. Peters, Bryan, R. F. D. 3.

Goree Neely, Wellborn.

F. H. Poole, Milligan.

J. C. Cloud, Bryan, R. F. D. 6.

A. J. Tabor, R. F. D. 3.

W. J. Lawless, Kurten.

V. T. Echols, Edge.

Will Presnal, Tabor.

Joseph Scanlin, Steele's Store.

Chas. Merka, Bryan, R. F. D. 5.

Retail price reporters are being appointed in every county in the United States. They are expected to keep a close check upon charges made at the stores and to report to the local administrator all dealers not keeping within the limits prescribed in the "fair price lists."

Wherever investigation shows that any dealer has charged excessive prices, the administrator will grant a hearing. If he can not show a just cause for his failure to keep within the prices announced by the interpreting boards, he will be punished.

W. O. W. CAMPAIGN.

All camps in Brazos, Grimes, Walker, Montgomery, San Jacinto and Polk counties have launched a big membership campaign and will close the drive sometime during the fall. Every camp in the district is urged to join in the campaign and secure as many applications as possible. Some valuable prizes and premiums will be given to the camps and individual members for writing the applications.

J. O. Miller, district manager, will have charge of the campaign and will make Canoe, Montgomery county, headquarters. All applications and certificates must be sent to J. O. Miller at Canoe, so a record can be kept of every application written in the district. D&Wpd

A. AND M. MEN WOUNDED.

Two more A. and M. men have been severely wounded in action in France, the dispatches from there announce. In the casualty list of the U. S. marines First Lieutenant Hugh McFarland and Second Lieutenant Max D. Gilfillan, St. Johnsbury, Vt., both graduates in the class of 1917, are reported as having been severely wounded.

BOY OF FOURTEEN FOUGHT IN BATTLE IN BROTHER'S NAME

(By Associated Press)

London, June 18.—How a boy of 14 impersonated his older brother and fought for 14 days under his brother's name was told in the police court. The boy, Arthur Stephens, was held for wearing the uniform. He said his brother was on leave. He took the uniform and went to war. The brother later rejoined the army and the boy's identity was discovered. The boy said it was easy to kill the foe when there being so many you could not miss them.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, give fruit laxative at once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.
